

DENATURED ALCOHOL IN WHISKY'S PLACE

Distilleries Hit by Prohibition
Will Be Put to New Use.

Internal revenue officials at the Treasury Department say the closing up of various distilleries in the South in consequence of the prohibition movement will tend to increase the output of denatured alcohol.

Letters and inquiries reaching the Bureau of Internal Revenue show that some of the expensive distilling properties which would have to be abandoned otherwise are to be given over to manufacture of denatured alcohol instead of being closed down. It is expected the price will trend lower because of this increased manufacture.

The Government has not been disappointed in the results from the passage of the denatured alcohol law, despite more or less talk that this legislation would tend to increase the price of denatured alcohol. The year's statistics will show this estimate was correct, the total production being about 4,500,000.

It is believed, however, this output will be largely increased next year and that it may be doubled. So far, denatured alcohol has been used chiefly for manufacture of explosives. Several companies have been organized lately to push its use into other lines, as in the running of automobiles, motor boats, and the like. A big increase in production is expected in consequence of this effort to bring alcohol into wider use.

The price of denatured alcohol in bulk is now 32 cents per gallon, and of gasoline 10 to 11 cents lower. Still, the constant tendency of the price of gasoline, which is a product of petroleum, is to increase, while the tendency of alcohol is in the other direction.

The Internal Revenue Bureau is informed that a great many experiments are being conducted with a view to having alcohol more commonly used. One of them is to mix calcium carbide with the alcohol, in order that it may ignite the more readily.

SHIP'S MUTINOUS CREW OVERCOME BY HANDFUL

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 26.—Details of a thrilling adventure in a handful of determined officers and a well-known member of the British colony here held in subjection and placed in chains a full complement of sailors of the steamship Lonsdale, who had mutinied on the high seas, have just reached this capital. When the ship arrived at the port of Salina Cruz she was manned only by her officers, the crew being in iron. According to the captain, quick action was taken upon the first signs of mutiny, and as he stood by his under officers and a passenger, A. W. Donnelly, all of whom were heavily armed, they mounted the bridge and, covering the disarmed crew, forced them into submission. The officers then bound the men hand and foot and kept them in captivity until they were delivered to the port authorities.

The Lonsdale is one of the Mexican Pacific lines and plies between Canadian and west coast ports.

SIMMS IS DENIED GAMBLING REPORT

Major Sylvester Declines to Interfere With Virginia
Affairs.

"Any request for data on gambling in Rosslyn or other parts of Alexandria will have to come from Commonwealth Attorney Crandal Mackey or some other official," said Major Sylvester today when asked what action he proposed taking on the letter of Charles I. Simms, the defeated candidate for Mr. Mackey's position in the county.

Simms, upon hearing that the regulations of James J. O'Shea, of the Regal Shie Company, were due to gambling in Rosslyn, immediately wrote to Major Sylvester asking for data. It is remembered that Simms made his fight against Commonwealth Attorney Mackey on the ground that gambling had not been wiped out in Rosslyn.

Major Sylvester seems cognizant of a political feud in Alexandria and declined today to furnish any data.

"If Mr. Mackey or any of the other officials of the county wish the data for police prosecution," said Major Sylvester, "I will instruct my men to do all they can to furnish it. It is not the intention of the Washington police force to blacken the eye of a sister city, county or town by furnishing information to other than the proper authorities."

Major Sylvester said he was able to furnish the applicant as a citizen I will be glad to give."

AUTO TRANSIT LINE PROPOSED FOR CITY

The proposition to establish a line of electric passenger autos in Washington was the subject of a hearing given by the Commissioners today to Peter H. Hughes, vice president of the Auto-Transit Company, of Philadelphia. It is proposed to introduce forty automobiles, having a seating capacity of thirty-three passengers each, upon routes yet to be selected and running at intervals of six minutes.

The company proposes to erect its own electric plant. At a later hearing will be made to introduce the Commissioners various types of automobiles from which will be selected the one considered most preferable to this city.

Passenger automobiles, said Mr. Hughes, have met with great success in Philadelphia, and every effort will be made to introduce a first-class service in Washington in conformity with the regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioners.

Chinese Merchant Dies;
Lived Here Many Years

Lee Guy Doo, one of the best known and most popular members of the Chinese colony, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his place of business, 346 Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

He was a prosperous merchant and importer of Chinese merchandise and was said to be wealthy. Tuesday afternoon while packing a box for his son in China he was taken ill and died without regaining consciousness. Coroner Nevitt issued a certificate of death from natural causes.

Doo came to this country twenty-five years ago and established a laundry. Twelve years later he started his store. One year later he returned to China, married and remained there two years. His wife and son reside in China. Every year he visited his family.

Lee Bin Doo and Lee Hung Doo, brothers, conducting small stores here, took charge of the body.

ONE CHANCE IN 1,000,000,
HE TAKES IT AND LIVES

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—When he was told by a physician in Camden he would have one chance in a million if he refused to have his arm amputated, blood poisoning having followed a scratch, Thomas Egan, a car inspector, of 222 Ambler street, said: "I'll take that chance."

An operation was performed, and last night it was announced that the arm would be saved.

ALEXANDRIA CONVICTED MAN DENIES HIS GUILT

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU,
ALEXANDRIA, VA., DEC. 26.

George Migdets, alias William Johnson, the colored man sentenced to be hanged January 17, for the murder of C. T. Smith, still holds that he is innocent of the crime for which he is to pay the death penalty. Migdets talks but little, but sometimes breaks his silence and communicates with those who visit him.

In the corporation court, Judge Barclay presiding, today, a final decree of divorce, on the grounds of desertion, was granted in the case of Frances Kaletski against William Kaletski.

At the meeting for men to be held at the Young People's building, in South Washington street, next Sunday afternoon, the Rev. H. E. Swann, of Washington, will deliver an address on his subject, "The Strange Story of Seventeen Men."

Fearing X-Ray, Crazed Woman Wrecks Store

Elizabeth Maddix, a young colored woman, was arrested by Officer Dixon, at Sixth and Q streets, today on a charge of insanity. Her pet delusion is that some one wants to turn X-rays on her. The officer states that the woman went into the store of George M. Pitt at Sixth and Q streets, and in her mad frenzy to be protected from evil spirits, turned the store topsy-turvy.

In an effort to quiet her, the officer states, she threw her arms around his neck and begged him to ward off the people who sought to put "them ex rays on her."

Experts who examined the woman would order her removal to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for treatment.

BRADLEY JURY HEAD LOSES HIS BROTHER

John J. Feeney, of Baltimore, Md., and a brother of James L. Feeney, a prominent labor leader and foreman of the Bradley jury, died at George Washington Hospital yesterday.

He was thirty-six years old and had been employed for a number of years as a stage hand in a Baltimore playhouse.

Mr. Feeney came to Washington about nine months ago to undergo an operation. The operation is said to have been successful, but relapses followed in rapid succession and Mr. Feeney's life was despaired of several days ago.

Funeral services will be held from Harvey's undertaking establishment late this afternoon and interment will be made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

DOCKETS OF COURTS CLEAN TILL JAN. 2

No assignments are announced for any of the District courts until January 2. The assignments builded for the civil docket in Circuit Court, No. 2, January 2, Justice Anderson are:
Grady against the Washington Gas Light Company.
Smith against Earnshaw.
International Traction Company against Howard.
Jaquette against the Capital Traction Company.

Lukens against Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway Company.
Wallace against Bullinger.
Wetter against Richardson & Burgess.
Bailey against Washington Gas Light Company.

F. H. Walker & Co. against Elite Laundry Company.
Coker against Pratt.
Dawson against the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The hearing of the petition of Richardson & Burgess and other master builders against William H. Maghan, president of the Bricklayers' Union, and other building trades officials, will be resumed, according to announcement, before Justice Gould in Equity Court January 2. The hearing of argument in this case was suspended to enable Attorney Henry Davis to take up the Terra Cotta wreck case in Criminal Court. The argument will probably be concluded in a day or two.

All the District courts, including the Court of Appeals, will resume their regular sessions the day after New Year Day.

With the exception of the assignments given above there are no other assignments announced for any of the courts for January 2, 1908.

THAW'S LAWYER TELLS HAS CHANCE FOR LIFE

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Daniel O'Reilly has a chance for his life. At Dr. Philip O'Hanlon's private hospital it was stated today that the young lawyer, who is personal counsel for Harry K. Thaw, slightly improved, and hopes are entertained that he will eventually get well.

He is suffering with pneumonia in an advanced stage, not having considered a cold he had serious until yesterday. Two doctors are in constant attendance on him.
